SOO-EEE PIG

Once again pigs will play an important part in Museum Day. Four pigs have been placed at strategic points in town where people might feed them.

They eat money only says Sally Brucks who along with Sis McDade supervises the Museum Day hog farm.

Bob Peden at Rexall Drug had Sally "shook" when she asked if one of the pigs could be displayed at his Rexall Drug.

"No," he said.

"And why not?" Sally countered.

"Well, with the city having so much trouble with hogs right now I don't know if I should let one in my place," Bob answered.

But he did. And you might feed it there for awhile. Other locations are Leinweber's, Dan's Drug and Hondo National Bank.

A NEW CHIEF

In a move not too significant to many Americans but vital to those of us who man the Reserve Forces of our country, President Nixon has nominated Maj. Gen. Homer I. (Pete) Lewis of Eagle Pass as Chief of Air Force Reserve. He succeeds another Texan Maj. Gen. Tom Marchbanks who retired February 1.

Thanks can go to many people for their work in making this appointment possible. But on behalf of all Reservists in the 433rd Alamo Reserve Wing I want to express a special thanks to Mrs. Bruce (Shirley) Foster and Bruce who worked diligently with Sen. John Tower in this effort. On a local basis, Bruce and Shirley, I know I speak for both Reno Stanga and Norman Buescher. Thank you.

Museum Day planners land Ace Reid

Guess who's coming for Museum Day on May 1?

None other than the cartoonist father of Cowpokes, Ace Reid; and maybe his sidekick from Cedar Creek Hondo Crouch.

Reid's buddy Sherrille Stroud of Devine was on hand at the Museum meeting Monday night to verify John Wentz's story that Ace would be here and try to coax Hondo along. Stroud also promised everyone present that he would do his "dangdest" to have the East Texas Humorist Bob Murphy of Nacogdoches come down for a visit.

Firming up events for the day the Museum Day Committee noted there would be: an Antique and Collectors Auction, Country Store, the Purple Petticoat Saloon, Hot Dogs, Ice Cream, Starving Artists Show and Sale, Games Booth, Side-walk Cafe, Fortune Teller, Baseball Dunk, Homemade Candy and Popcorn Balls, Barbecue Chicken Dinner, Cold Drink Stands.

Organizations presently connected with sponsoring events are Hondo Lions Club, H. Hanis Lions Club, South Hondo 4-H Club, Hondo Demonstration Club, Hondo Future Farmers of America, Hondo Future Homemakers of America, Pruned American Legion Post and others.

Several new items were discussed at the meeting with Mrs. Bob Nations presenting two ideas on saleable items: One would be the Hondo Sign Card attractively mounted on wood; the second would be an attractive locker bag, closet bag, shoe bag or just what ever. Stroud said he would manufacture some items for sale and present them to the Museum. These would be metal type items.

A note card with sketches of historical spots in the county was discussed. This would be similar to the ones the Frontier Museum in Bandera sells. Prices are being obtained on printing costs and a report will be made Monday night, March 15.

Gladys Lindeberg and Nora Winkler presented an outline of their proposal for displays at the Museum during Museum Day. They have planned for three rooms to be ready with various type displays so that the public can have an idea of what the place will look like in the future.

Since many items are still needed for the Antique Auction it was suggested that a telephone committee be formed to call area residents and urge them to look around for items they might donate to this sale.

Youth group to clean up Hondo trash, litter

Thanks to a group of its youth, Hondo will soon rid itself of a lot of its trash and litter.

Teenager Mike Jones appeared before the council Tuesday night to report on the group's recent efforts to survey the city's street corners. He said they found 61 blind corners, four illegible traffic signs, and 90 intersections with no traffic signs.

Jones also noted that the group saw lots of trash and litter. He said his group wants to clean it up, but needs trucks to haul it in.

Mayor George L. Brucks quickly asked if they could use some National Guard Jeeps and trailers, and councilmen indicated city trucks could also be used.

The project is tentatively planned for Saturday, Mar. 20,

Hondo teenager crowned queen

Hondo High School senior Miss Reggie Pedroza was crowned 1971 CYO Youth Club Federation of the Archdiocese of San Antonio at the annual coronation ball held Sunday evening at La Villita Assembly Hall in San Antonio.

Accepting the Queens Cup for presentation to Miss Pedroza was Mike Jones, president of St. John's CYO, Hondo. Miss Pedroza will reign throughout the coming year. She succeeds Miss Karen Mann, also of Hondo, who placed the crown on her head during Sunday's ceremonies. This is the third time that a Hondo girl has been named CYO Queen. Miss Connie Stiegler held the honor in 1967.

Fourteen candidates from throughout the diocese competed for the crown in five categories. Miss Pedroza won first in the talent with a comedy skit she wrote herself. She placed first in personality, second in leadership and placed in Christian living.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregorio Pedroza, Miss Pedroza is president of the Hondo Owl Band and vice-president of St. John's CYO. She is 18 years old.

Hondo city councilmen refused Tuesday night to reinstate former Chief of Police Joe Pitre with back pay.

A San Antonio attorney representing Pitre asked councilmen to introduce and pass two resolutions; one reinstating the ex-chief and one granting him back pay.

City Attorney Hugh Meyer advised Mayor George L. Brucks that the proper way to answer the request would be to ask the council to move adoption of the resolutions.

Brucks asked if any councilman would like to make the resolutions, and was answered by silence from the council table.

Earlier the attorney had asked what policies guided the council in hiring and firing employees. He was told that all non-elected city officials serve at the pleasure of the council, that there is no civil service, and no tenure for city employees.

Meyer said that under a new civil and criminal code adopted by the council earlier in the evening, an appeal system is established.

Before Mayor Brucks asked for the resolutions requested by Pitre's attorney, the lawyer said, "... let me appeal to each one of you as an individual person to take into consideration that this man has been ridiculed embarrassed. ... his family has gone through a tremendous amount of hardship insofar as his income ..."

After being demoted from chief to patrolman by the council when Jerry Williamson was hired as chief, Pitre was later fired and charged with misuse of city property.

An examining trial was held, and the case referred to the Medina County Grand Jury which subsequently no-billed the ex-chief.

Tuesday night one of Pitre's two San Antonio lawyers contended that since the grand jury did not indict Pitre, it felt no crime has been committed.

"As the situation came about (Pitre's firing)," the attorney said, "it smells too much of malicious prosecution and abuse of process."

The attorney indicated he will continue to seek a means to have Pitre reinstated with back pay, and hinted that a civil suit may be filed in the case.

Dump sites plague county

Recent complaints from Medina Lake residents regarding haphazard dumping of garbage was discussed at the Monday meeting of Medina County Commissioners Court.

"We have two big problems at Medina Lake," said Commissioner Hilmer Mangold of Rio Medina. "First, we don't have enough land near the lake to make a proper dump and, second, people just won't put their garbage in a pit or ditch. They stop several yards from the pit and throw out their trash."

"It is bad but what can we do? If we get further away from the lake where there is more land, people won't drive several miles to a dump," Mangold continued.

Commissioner Fred Bader of Hondo agreed to accompany Mangold to the Medina Lake area to help determine whether or not there is available land for a long ditch for dumping.

"Gentlemen, this is a problem we must deal with soon for other rural areas, particularly Yancey," County Judge Jerome Decker told commis-

Council adopts new code

Hondo will soon have a brand new set of civil and criminal ordinances.

Tuesday night councilmen adopted the new codification which the city has been working on for many months. As soon as the city's publication of the adopting ordinance has been published the required number of times in The Hondo Anvil Herald, it will become effective.

It repeals all other city ordinances except resolutions and special ordinances.

Medicare recertifies Hospital

Good news came Thursday afternoon for the senior citizens of Medina County when U.S. Congressman Abraham (Chick) Kazen called and announced that Medina Memorial Hospital has been re-certified for Medicare.

"The good part of this news," said Congressman Kazen in a long distance call to Radio Station KRME, "is that the re-certification is retroactive to December 1969."

Congressman Kazen, aided locally by County Judge Jerome Decker, Hospital Administrator Melvin Finger and the hospital board, has spearheaded the battle to recertify Medina Memorial for Medicare.

Loss of certification came in December 1969 and since that time many senior citizens have either had to foot their bill here or go to other hospitals so they could be covered by Medicare.

The Congressman visited in Hondo recently to announce that the Congress had passed a bill which relaxed the stringent rules on the pretence of registered nurses on all shifts. At that time he said he would work with the Social Security Administration from his office in Washington to have the hospital re-certified.

His efforts were successful even beyond anyone's expectations when the Social Security people agreed to making the re-certification retroactive to December 1969.

Medina County population creeps up 7.1 %

Medina County's official population in the 1970 census was 20,249, up 7.1% from the 1960 figure of 18,904, the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, reports.

The official population of the state was 11,196,730, up 16.9% from the 1960 population count, which was 9,574, 677. The 1970 census counted 19,766 white persons in Medina County, 97.6% of the total; 390 Negroes, and 93 persons of other races. In 1960, 99.0% of the population was white.

The census showed 1,884 children under 5 years; 5,975 in ages 5 through 17; 10,123 people 18 through 64; and 2, 267 who were 65 and older. The population 14 years and over included 9,345 married people, 1,121 who were widowed, 257 divorced, and 3,588 never married.

Medina County's 1970 population was classified as 43.4 percent urban, and 56.6% rural.

There were 5,756 households, with 20,150 persons, including 808 one-person households. In addition 99 persons were living in group quarters.

The 1970 census counted 7,031 housing units in Medina County, 4,431 of them occupied by owners, 1,325 occupied by tenants, and 1,275 vacant. These included vacant units for seasonal use. The proportion occupied by owners in 1970 was 63.0% compared with 61.8% in 1960.

Among year-round dwelling units there were 6,440 single family houses, 236 housing units in multi-unit buildings, and 144 mobile homes or trailers. The percentage of occupied units with more than one person per room was 20.2, compared with 27.1 in 1960. Of all the occupied housing units, 4,555 had piped water, toilet, and bath, while 1,201 lacked some or all plumbing.

The median value of owner-occupied houses in Medina County was $8,300, compared with $6,000 in 1960. The median rent paid by tenants in 1970 was $44 per month, compared with $45 in 1960. Half were over and half below the median figures.

Letters to the editor

Integrity is not a partisan issue

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

The Resolution that appeared in the Hondo Anvil Herald calling for investigation of the facts and individuals named in the stock fraud scandal by both parties and legislators of both bodies received compliments from citizens of Medina County. Unfortunately many said no complete investigation by the Texas Legislature would take place. Most predicted a "whitewash" of the alleged scandal.

Whitewash of the stock fraud scandal seems to be the case when our own Representative John Poerner places the responsibility in Washington, D.C., since the Securities Exchange Commission is controlled by a Republican President. If this isn't sufficient investigation Poerner writes, "then the State of Texas should initiate their own." Investigation by whom? We would not have had any knowledge of the matter at all if it were not for a federal commission, would we? Aren't Texans entitled to a Texas Legislative investigation of the possible violations of the State Constitution? Why was $4,000,000 in state funds left on deposit at the Sharpstown State Bank for over two years at NO INTEREST? Maybe we wouldn't need higher taxes if our state money were managed right.

Integrity is not, or should not be a partisan issue. Texans want to be proud of their state government. They resent the fact that elected officials are not clearing the doubt and suspicion. It is sad that we, the taxpayers, must hear of some facts on a bit by bit basis from a federal commission which does not deal with the substantive subject of the Texas issue.

Sincerely,
Bruce T. Foster

Water Quality board slates hearing for Lamm feedlots

Lamm Ranch has applied to the Texas Water Quality Board for an initial waste control order for its feedlot operation which is located 4 miles south of D'Hanis on E.M. Road 2200.

A public hearing on the application will be held in the Texas Water Development Board, Third Floor Auditorium, 301 West Second Street, Austin, at 9 a.m. on March 18.

The board will hear evidence, if any, under which the order may be issued. Additional data will be developed at the hearing. But, further technical information is available and may be obtained by writing to the Texas Water Quality Board, 1108 Lavaca St., Austin.

The application pertains to a variable amount of rainfall runoff wastewater from its feedlot. The runoff wastewater will be retained in two proposed tanks and used for irrigation on the owners property. There will be no discharge to the surface waters of the state.

Hondo Public Library will celebrate its fourth anniversary Saturday, April 17, with an open house.

The event will kick off National Library Week April 18-24 in Hondo.

Three new directors have been elected to the board of Hondo Public Library. Taking office April 1 will be Gerald Hay, Mrs. Sally Brucks, and E. J. Chapa.

The trio succeeds Miss Anne Davis, Mrs. N. P. Pope, and Harry Filleman.

Dear Editor:

You win! I thought I was dropping the Herald since there are so few people I know in Hondo now, and you almost never have any Yancey news.

But when it got down to the last issue I didn't want to. Our family has subscribed since 1896 I guess so I'm doing it again!

Do try to get a Yancey news letter in again won't you!

Sincerely,

Game regulatory bill introduced

By John H. Poerner, State Representative, District 49

GAME REGULATORY VETO POWER - I have introduced H.B. 372 to give the Commissioners Courts of Zavala, Uvalde, Frio and Dimmit Counties the right to approve or disapprove the Commission's rule in regard to regulatory authority. The bill also gives them the right to accept or reject any portion or part of order at its next regular meeting occurring more than five days after adoption by the Commission.

This bill is designed to prevent a three-man Parks & Wildlife Commission from promulgating rules and regulations on a given county that is not desirable by the citizens of that county. It is on the principle of local rule and it is also in response to requests from these counties.

Medina County was given the authority by the Legislature in 1967 to have the option to reject all the regulatory authority and return to general law by action of the Commissioners Court. In 1969, the 61st Legislature amended this Special Act to give the counties affected by the Act the authority to reject any order or part of order. By passage of this bill, all five of my counties would have the privilege of veto power if they so desired.

HOUSE JOURNAL

Each member of the Texas House is privileged to mail 15 copies of the "House Journal" to anyone of their choosing. The "House Journal" is similar to the "Congressional Record" in Congress in that it gives a complete printing of the bills introduced, name of author, motions made on the floor, a list of the House Members voting for or against matters presented for vote and a list of the members answering daily roll call.

I had many more requests than the 15 copies available so I have mailed one copy to each school library in my district.

I chose the school libraries so that the students may have a copy readily available for government classes and that the copies might be retained through the years for further reference.

I also thought it might promote voting citizens to visit their local school and, while checking on the voting record of their representative, have the opportunity to observe the functions of their local institution. I trust the school administrators have no objection to my offering the availability of these copies to interested citizens.

TAX BILL - The average workday this past week has been about 17 hours. The tax bill, along with many other measures, requires full and undivided attention from morning to midnight. There is no doubt in my mind that there is not a single individual of the 49th District that wants new taxes. By the provisions of the Texas Constitution it is necessary for any tax measure to originate in the House.

Consequently, the House passed a tax package to the Senate for their review, study, and probably major revision during the next 30 to 60 days. If history repeats itself, the Senate will do a "major overhaul" job and return it to the House, as amended, and the House will probably reject the Senate amendments.

Consequently, the tax bill will go to a Conference Committee composed of five members from the House and five from the Senate who will work out the differences between the two bills. Many times, conferees are not instructed on what may be included in the Conference Committee report, and new items are included or some item that passed both Houses may be deleted. Conference Committee reports cannot be amended and it is a "take it or leave it" situation.

In summary, there is probably little need to go into great detail as to what was contained in the House version since it is only a "vehicle" to be sent to the Senate so that negotiations by the Conference Committee may be started. I will give full detail of the provisions of the bill at such time that I feel we have an understanding between the House and the Senate on what is to be desired.

INVOLVEMENT IS NECESSARY

Right here I am going to write about one of my children so you can tune it out if you wish.

Several weeks ago sparks from a passing freight train caused a fire just east of downtown Hondo. (Actually since then there have been several all along the line).

Our older daughter, Terri, was concerned about the possibility of such a fire happening downtown near the gasoline storage tanks, thus causing extensive damage.

So this sixth grade student wrote the president of the SP railroad and expressed this concern and wondered what they could do about keeping their grass cut. She got this reply:

"Dear Miss Young: We have your letter of January 24, 1971, concerning grass being set on fire by one of our trains while coming through Hondo.

"We appreciate you calling this to our attention, and we are referring this matter to proper authorities with instructions to make a check to see what needs to be done to correct any unsafe conditions that may exist. Sincerely yours, S. E. Tanner, superintendent."

I am naturally proud that Terri was concerned enough to write the letter. And I am glad that Mr. Tanner would take time to answer her.

But I also would like to know just what kind of check was made and what the results were. Wouldn't you other citizens of Hondo?

sioners. "We are receiving too many complaints."

"Well, we've got to have land. Garbage dumps have to be 300 yards from public roads and around one-half mile from any dwelling," Commissioner Charles Langfeld of D'Hanis told the group. "We've been negotiating with some fellows but don't have any final agreements. Maybe some of these folks have some ideas. We don't want to get into any condemnation proceedings if we can help it."

Commissioners approved purchase of a car for Commissioner Ira Mangold. Phillips Ford of Devine submitted the low bid.

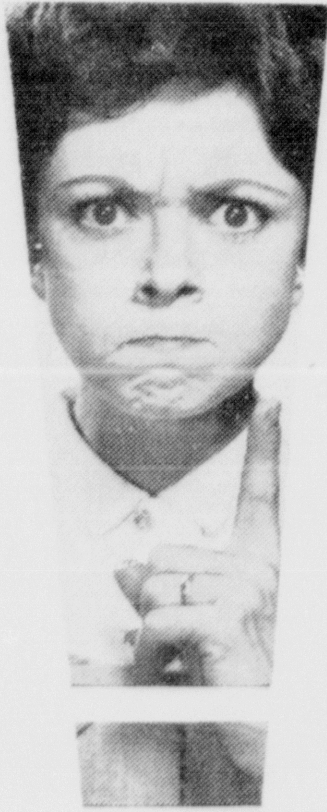

The court also approved procurement of a copying machine on a lease-rental basis for use in the office of the county clerk.

Bader asked County Attorney Frank Vance what steps should be taken to pass an ordinance setting speed limits on the Quild to Rio Medina Road. This matter will be taken up again when the necessary information is obtained.

Judge Decker informed commissioners that only one judge and one clerk would be hired in each polling place for the May 18 special election. All 18 precincts will be open for the election.

School candidates get free ride; all city council posts opposed

Hondo voters will select a mayor from two candidates, a councilman for Place 1 from three candidates, and a councilman for Place 2 from a pair of hopefuls in the April 3 election.

Incumbent Mayor George L. Brucks is being challenged by Will J. Ney, Jr. In the Place 1 councilman race, incumbent A. D. Patterson is opposed by Mrs. Linda Weaver and Tom E. Santos.

Incumbent Place 2 councilman Albert Vance is not seeking reelection. A former city councilman, G. P. Chapman, and Jesus Rodriguez seek election to Vance's council seat.

In the school district election set the same day, no candidates are opposed. Lloyd Hardt is unopposed for Place 5 on the Hondo ISD Board, and incumbent Tom Kuykendall is not seeking re-election.

The other incumbents are Jack Been for Place 6 and Dr. Judge Sandusky for Place 7. Absentee voting for both elections opens Monday.

Weaver

Mrs. Paige (Linda) Weaver announced her candidacy for Alderman Place 1 on the Hondo City Council and authorized the Anvil Herald to make the following statement:

"Along with the right to vote, comes a certain amount of responsibility and civic duty. Too often, the most critical citizen is the one who knows all that is wrong and how everything should be done but has not even bothered to vote, much less participate in trying to improve matters.

"You, as a voter and resident of the City of Hondo, are obliged to cast your ballot for the candidate whom you believe to be most qualified for the position.

Sorority women hear program on marijuana and our youth

Tuesday evening Iota Upsilon Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Stiegler, Associate hostesses were Mmes. Rolland Treadaway and Hilmer Mueller.

Sociology Professor Milton L. Rhodes of Our Lady of the Lake College was introduced by Mrs. Elmer Joe Leinweber. His topic was "Where Is Mary Jane?" It dealt with the problem of our youth and the use of drugs, specifically marijuana. He said that at present doctors are not sure of the damage the use of this drug is causing or may cause. There are two main factors that may be the cause for the youths of today turning to the use of dope.

One, the fact that people (adults) are "pill takers" either to "slow them down" or "speed" them up. The other factor is to keep "in step" with their peers.

He had a question and answer period at the close of his topic, but as he said in conclusion, the problem is a serious one just as "social drinking" is a problem to society.

The answer remains with us, unsolved until we begin to comprehend the causes for it. Mrs. John (Malford) Coyle presided at the business session. Various committees gave reports and the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the coming year.

Committees were appointed by Mrs. Tommy Hollmig for the District IV meeting which Iota Upsilon will host on Sunday, April 18. The social committee has had two successful socials, a coon hunt at the Garrison Ranch and a box social and bunco party at the social room.

The sorority is enthusiastic about sponsoring a booth for Hondo Museum Day. They plan to have another "Side Walk Cafe" the same as last year.

On Saturday, March 13, members will join sister chapters of District IV in sponsoring the annual Jonquil Charity Ball in San Antonio. At this time the Jonquil Queen will be selected. Iota Upsilon will be represented by Mrs. Norman (Nancy) Buescher.

Consumers shop more carefully today. Here's why they buy Fords.

Ford LTD, quiet and strong, is the luxury car without the luxury car price.

Ford LTD is the car that can match the luxury of cars costing hundreds of dollars more. And LTD's quiet ride is the standard that those same more expensive cars have to match themselves. That quiet strength is one reason for consumers choosing LTD over all other luxury cars in its class.

Torino is sized and priced right in the middle. Room for six, small car handling.

Consumers know the mid-size Torino gives them the roominess of a big car plus the easy handling of a small car. For a price that's right in the middle. As a result, Torino has become the most popular 4-door in its class. Your Ford Dealer has thirteen other models to choose from.

Maverick, the simple compact car, offers 2 doors or 4; 6 or V-8 power.

Take Maverick. Consumers know that the simple machine is simple to own and simple to run. And they learned recently that a leading independent survey found Maverick has the best frequency of repair record of any American car. That might explain why it's America's best-selling compact.

Two pretty misses

Looking at these two Medina Valley High School juniors one would know that the judges faced a difficult task in selecting a Miss Medina Valley in the recent contest. They picked Sue Nester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Nester of Dunlay, as Miss Medina Valley and named these two as runners up. First runner up is Donna Boehme, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boehme; and second runner up is DeaAnn Schirmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schirmer.

Louis Rucker found 'New Country' when he arrived in Medina County

BY EDNA McDADE

Ask Louis F. Rucker what he was doing at 7 p. m. on the day before Thanksgiving, 1907, and he can tell you exactly.

He was setting foot on Medina County soil for the first time in his 16-year existence, having determined that it was "high time for a man of my age to be seeking his fortune in new country".

For the teen-aged Rucker, "the old country" was Bastrop County, Texas, where he was born on March 9, 1891 in the little town of Red Rock, to Benjamin McClendon and Frances Louisa Lentz Rucker.

"Maybe," says Rucker, "I was really trying to look ahead for I liked this area immediately and I've been here ever since. Besides, the last census gives Red Rock credit for only 100 population which makes Hondo look big city sure enough!"

By the time the adventure-some youth arrived here, he had completed the meager education he was to have by attending the Walnut Creek country school "for too few years but it was the best I could manage at that time for I had to get out and work and I do mean work," he said said, "Farming was all I knew so farming it was that made a touch and go living for my younger brother, our mother, and me, after my father left home".

Rucker's first farming venture here involved about 50 acres on which he grew staple crops of corn and cotton and a few vegetables. Prices, he said, were seven or eight cents a pound for cotton and sometimes as much as 30 cents a bushel for corn. Hours were from "can to can't and trot double-time in between but a fellow didn't gripe -- there wasn't time enough for that!"

"And, another thing," Rucker said, "honest, hard work never hurt any man. Kids got into less devilment and they learned to should responsibility. The good Lord might have been preparing me to provide for my family of ten children later on!"

After his first marriage, to the late Annie Inez Sorrells, Rucker farmed for a while on several farms and ranches, the last one owned by the late Horace Bradley. Eventually, the family moved from there to Hondo and his happier memories are of the "ups and downs" of his ventures here.

He operated a dairy for about eleven years and he has a backlog of amusing experiences to relate. "The work was back-breaking hard and I've said since, that nobody could ever run fast enough to catch me and give me a dairy or a cafe or a filling station to operate under those long ago circumstances and I had a go at all of them".

Dairy hours began at two o'clock every morning, "come day, go day and God take Sunday, as the old saying goes". Rucker says the bed he owned in those days was "good as new" because he didn't get to spend much time in it. Milk sold for 5 cents a pint, 8 cents a quart.

Milk route deliveries began around 3:30 and Rucker remembers that the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fusselman who were among his best customers, were usually up cooking breakfast by four o'clock.

Another customer was a carpenter who insisted on a 4:30 delivery of the daily pint of milk and showed his displeasure if Rucker was late although the man did not leave for work until about eight each day. When Rucker tried to convince him that a later delivery would make it easier for him and still not inconvenience his customer, the man said "Well, I disagree. A man needs to be sure his milk is there when the coffee is hot!"

One family, with several children, bought milk daily, in quantity, but never returned any bottles. Rucker continued deliveries because he knew the children needed the milk. Weeks later, when the family moved, a neighbor told Rucker if he'd look under the house, he'd find his missing bottles and he did -- all unwashed.

His funniest experience was when he found himself covered with dog fleas one bitter cold morning. He said he had no idea how they had managed to attach themselves to him so suddenly but he knew he had to get rid of them somehow. He stopped under the streetlight at Hondo Lumber Company, jerked off his shirt and began whipping it against the lamp post. The late Louis Rothe, going to his butcher shop job saw him and yelled "Louis, have you gone crazy?" Said Rucker, "I darned near had, too".

Later, he learned when he went to a certain house to collect his bill, that several dogs slept under and on the rickety porch and were "living flea factories". The woman assured him "Sometimes they do get right bothersome" -- and that's when Rucker decided to strike that customer off his list until she persuaded him to leave the milk in a box which she nailed to a mesquite tree away from the house.

For the last 35 years, Rucker has been in the employ of Medina County, in their road improvement program. He began on Feb. 18, 1936, at 30 cents per hour, and his first week's pay amounted to $4.25. On the first day, while holding a chisel for Edgar Stiegler, a fellow worker, Stiegler accidentally hit Rucker's finger with his sledge hammer. The late Dr. Henry Meyer "sewed it up, taped it and sent me back to my job," said Rucker.

Rucker's work, always in Precinct 1, has "covered many a mile", he says, recalling that the first job was on the old Bandera Road, near the school house that still stands along Verde Creek. "It was solid rock all the way and the WPA hands that helped really got a workout!"

Eventually, Rucker learned to operate the big maintainers and motor graders and he still likes to "help out" if he is needed. In the "old days," before the city was incorporated, the county workers also worked city streets, Rucker remembers when the "road" by the old Baptist Church was impassible for two or three weeks, following a "gulley washer rain". He says the work crews "broke many water and gas lines because they were barely under the surface and everybody pitched in to help patch things up!"

"I feel low the county commissioners a big debt of gratitude for the opportunity they gave me to earn and learn," says Rucker. "When I started, about the most mechanical thing I knew was how to build a chicken coop!"

Rucker has a good memory and a delightful sense of humor which supplied enough stories about his earlier years to make this one much more detailed, if space permitted. Some of his children should take notes and set the yarns down for the enjoyment of the family.

Last Saturday, about 65 family members and a few friends gathered at the home of Wilbur and Ramona Wilson, in Yancey, to celebrate Mr.

Rucker's 80th birthday. Six of his surviving eight children, and their families, were present for the festive occasion.

Present also was Mr. Rucker's present wife, Pearl, whom he married in 1963. Both drive what Louis calls his "Faithful, fabulous Falcon" which he bought locally in 1960 and which now boasts over 222,000 mileage. "Sometimes it just runs on fumes from the carburetor, if I forget to fill the tank", claims its devoted owner.

Louis Rucker says he hopes to be around for "as long as Lord sees fit". He says he is keeping "both my big feet flat on the ground and I want no part of a plane or boat because their bottoms might fall out. I like to be where I can keep time to music with my feet like I used to in the old days when my fiddle and I played such tunes as Buffalo Gal, Eighth of January, Golden Slippers and such".

I shared Mr. Rucker's appreciation of an old Bible, that dates back to 1861 and which cost "$5 in gold coins", according to a pencilled notation, probably made by his Alabama grandfather, Gabriel Moore Lentz, to whom it once belonged. He was born June 24, 1834.

The book is a real treasure and includes "references and marginal readings from the Polyglot Bible, with beautiful color maps and ancient charts. Included also are "Scripture measures of capacity for liquids and things dry, reduced to English troy weight". And, many, many more.

I could have spent hours poring over the old book. The Ruckers do spend many hours pursuing its study.

"It helps a man to realize God's plan for the world and keeps me aware of daily blessings," said Mr. Rucker. "I know my grandfather would be pleased that his old Bible is still serving his family."

Brush control is vital in area

By Vernon C. Grunewald,
Conservation Technician

From original grass country the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District has slowly become infested with many undesirable brush and woody plants. Landowners in the district have worked very hard to control these invading plants with a fair degree of success.

Bulldozing was perhaps the first mechanical practice that was used against white brush and mesquite. In two years the white brush and mesquite have more plants growing than ever before.

Chaining was introduced and thousands of acres were knocked down with the use of a heavy "Navy Anchor Chain". By chaining two ways a fair degree of success is obtained for two to three years. Very little brush is actually killed, but the brush is set back to a point where it grows slowly.

The value is realized by a showing of more grass growth because it now received moisture previously taken by the undesirable brush.

Bulldozing and chaining are temporary relief to a continued problem. The value is best realized when root-plowing is also done and all woody plants are removed in its entirety from the land. Only the oak should remain when needed for livestock shade, wildlife, or spots of beautification. Areas of brushland can be set aside for usage by wildlife in a brush control program.

Even after bulldozing, chaining, and rootplowing, the problem is not solved. The final step is seeding the acreage to a good desirable perennial grass. When grass is well established and growing vigorously, the key to the entire brush problem is still at stake. This is proper management of the new grass.

Proper stocking the acreage with livestock is of utmost importance, or the entire operation is doomed to failure. Grass must be rested during certain growing seasons, or it will slowly weaken and die.

Mother Nature strives to keep the rich earth covered as a protection against all kinds of erosion. The most abusive is man, water, and wind.

Abusing the grass will bring back undesirable plants and the cycle starts over again. Man suffers again by his own doings.

The laws of Mother Nature are simple -- follow her rules and she will provide accordingly -- abuse her nature, and problems start immediately.

Anyone in the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District that is having trouble with "Mother Nature", come by the office of the Soil Conservation Service, and get free information on how to use her productively.

by Edna McDade

Leave it to "UNCLE RAY" JENNINGS to keep folks laughing and in good humor.

As I stopped at the post office one sunny, windy morning he greeted me: "It's safe to get out of your car now. The rain's done stopped!"

Coincidental but interesting is the fact that Father EMMETT CAROLAN is not the first man by that name to have been "among those present" in Hondo.

In Part 2 of YANCEY RUSSELL's comprehensive story of Freemasonry in Medina County, the name of JAMES M. CAROLAN appears as Past Master of Alamo Lodge No. 44, in a committee report dated March 8, 1859.

While HEDWIG HUTZLER is minding her good doctor's orders, as a good patient should, her devoted ADOLPH is keeping the home chores going at their Biry farm.

He writes that he spends most of his time with Hedwig at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. R. MANN, in Bigfoot but he has done some gardening in the hope that enough rain will "take notice of it and make it grow". He says it will take more than a drizzle to encourage the growth of the corn, Irish potatoes and squash which he planted late in February.

Plans for our second annual MUSEUM DAY (May 1) are gathering speed and some enthusiasm. JOE BRUCKS contributed an old saddle which will be looking for a new owner.

Joe told me that he and his brother, ALFRED BRUCKS, have a number of real antiques and keepsakes which they plan to give to the Museum when that opens for visitors, hopefully during the next few months.

SILVIA, 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. JOSE RODRIGUEZ, 1318 Ave. E, and the youngest of their seven children, is among the students who attend the Texas School for the Deaf.

A 4th grader and now in her third year in Austin, Silvia is enthusiastic about her "own school" and her mother says she is learning fast to communicate by sign language, "always in English" which she also employs in her frequent letters to her parents and other family members.

A few days ago, said Mrs. Rodriguez, Silvia wrote that the school was to have a "white elephant" sale and suggested that she "could use $2 right now" so her request was promptly granted.

Silvia's grandmother, Mrs. JOSEFA RODRIGUEZ, also shares the family's pride and interest in Silvia.

In January I reported my enjoyment of the traditional Christmas Vigil services held in the Lancaster, Pa. Moravian Church and I sent a copy of the column to Mrs. Charles Rineer, one of the choir members.

She shared it with the pastor and the choir director and then wrote to tell me that the choir had joined in singing Deep in the Heart of Texas "just for you, when we held our weekly rehearsal".

Wasn't that a gracious gesture?

When I interviewed LOUIS FRANKLIN RUCKER for the story which appears elsewhere in this paper, his light hearted humor prompted some delightful "tall tales".

He asked me if I knew why there were no pipe smokers in the penitentiary. As he filled and "tamped" his own pipe preparatory to "lighting up", he explained:

"These things keep a fellow so busy getting them ready to smoke and then keeping them going that a fellow doesn't have time to get into the trouble that makes them eligible for free board and room in the pen!"

Senator Tower has backed continuance of the service in identical letters to Transportation Secretary John Volpe and Defense Secretary Melvin Laird.

Bicycle registration coming soon

Chief of Police Jerry Williamson told councilmen Tuesday night that his department expects to be ready to register bicycles in Hondo by the end of the month.

He said plates have been ordered, and that there'll be a 50-cent fee charged.

By registering and licensing bicycles in the city, officials hope to prevent most bicycle thefts and to be able to track down those that are stolen.

City to help Eagles renovate ball field

The Hondo Eagles baseball team will have better facilities for their games this year.

City Councilmen agreed Tuesday night to help the ball club do some renovating work at their diamond.

In asking for city help, a spokesman for the club said the Eagles have been playing here for nine years, and that in addition to providing recreation for team members, the club provides a recreational service to the community.

"We'd appreciate your financial and material help," he said.

Report fires quickly

Hondo Fire Department President Charles Lutz has appealed for a little help on grass fires.

During the dry season these fires have been more than numerous and Lutz believes his department can do a better job if they are notified a little earlier on such fires.

"We would like for people to call us on these before they get out of hand," Lutz said in his appeal. "If we can get on the scene a little earlier, our department can save many acres of grass."

Explorer Scouts to admit girls

The Exploring Division of the Boy Scouts of America, after two years of research and experience, is now admitting girls to full membership in the heretofore all-boy Explorer Posts.

Herbert J. Wilkins, scout executive for the 15-county Alamo Area Council, BSA, said this week the nationwide executive board of the BSA, approved the new policy effective April 1. Hondo and Medina County are part of the Alamo Area Council.

Wilkins said the action to admit girls to Explorer Posts "is to enable Exploring more effectively to carry out its mandate to meet the needs and interests of today's youth".

The ages of girls joining posts will be the same bracket as that for boys--15 through 20 years. Bulk of the membership generally comes from those of high school age.

Especially attractive, he said, are "special interest" posts, organized around a career or vocation interest such as medicine, communications, law, aviation, meteorology, law enforcement.

Pruneda Legion Post seeking reinstatement

"We need to confirm the membership so that our post can be reinstated," says Antonio Mendoza, member. "Our charter has been suspended and is in jeopardy of final cancellation. At least 15 members are required to maintain our post. So come on out, we need your help."

Sports car group seeks race approval

Approval was asked of the city council Tuesday night to stage a sports car race on the west side of the air field.

Bob Kay, representing the Sports Car Club of America, said that although the proposed race would bring about 1,000 people to Hondo for two days of racing, there would be no spectators.

Only contestants and others directly involved in the event would be allowed to attend.

Councilmen Andrew Patterson and Albert Vance noted that the council has refused local people permission to hold drag races at the air field.

Mayor George L. Bruck said that the council had recently "... turned down a local organization."

However, it was pointed out that the sports car race would be a one-time event by a non-profit organization.

Councilmen are to give the promoters an answer within a day or two.

Now there's a new, small Pontiac with a small-car price for small-car lovers.

Wouldn't you know it would be fun to drive, stingy on gas, quick to service and built to last.

Of course you would. We wouldn't build a small car unless we figured it would give you more of what you want a small car for.

Take that low price. Ventura is a small car, so it has a low, small-car price. But it's what you get for that small price that makes Ventura worth a close look.

Ventura is fun to drive. It should be, it's from the Wide-Track people. Which means you get a smooth, comfortable, Wide-Track ride.

The handling's quick. There's a nifty 111-inch wheelbase for easy parking. And both the 250-cu.-in. six and available 307-cu.-in. V-8 respond beautifully in city traffic or on the expressway

Ventura is stingy with your gas money.

Both the standard six-cylinder engine and the V-8 you can order run beautifully on regular gas or the new low-lead and no-lead fuels. The carburetor on the six is an economical one-barrel, and the transmission for both six and V-8 is a practical 3-speed manual.

Ventura is quick to service. If you're a do-it-yourselfer, you'll like fiddling around with the new Ventura.

New twist-lock lamp sockets let you make changes in seconds.

The engine is uncomplicated, and there is plenty of engine-compartment space, especially with the six.

If you ever need to have somebody else work on your car--well, you'll like Ventura, too. Both the standard six and available V-8 are tough, time-tested designs. Same goes for transmissions. The standard 3-speed manual and the available 2-speed automatic, Turbo Hydra-matic or floor-mounted 3-speed are all rugged, dependable units.

Ventura is built to last. There's nothing lightweight about this car. It's welded--not bolted--at hundreds of strategic points to help keep it tight and quiet.

The body is heavy-gauge steel. And it has double paneling in the deck lid, hood and doors. You could probably sum it up best with three little words: Body by Fisher.

So, come on. If you're a small-car lover, stop by your Pontiac dealer's today. Tell him you want to see the new Ventura. It's the small car that gives you more of what you want a small car for.

Don't forget to buckle up for safety.

Ventura II--It's Pure Pontiac!

Hondo Public Library

New board to be named

by Lottie Hollaway Maw

At our last Library Board meeting March 2, we were informed that three of our members were going off the board April 6, 1971. Harry Filleman, Chairman of the Library Board, Anne Davis and Mrs. N. Paul Pope. We regret this loss very much as they were a part of the original organization and "Boosters" of the Hondo Public Library, which opened its doors to the public April 17, 1967. We can only say a "Big Thank You" for their splendid services rendered the Library and the community. Each one will be missed a great deal in his particular field of endeavor.

Up-to-date, George L. Brucks, Mayor, and the Library Board has not voted on the new group to take over, which will be verified at the April meeting. A big welcome is in order for their acceptance and a continuation of our fine Library progress with their help and support.

Please bring back your overdue books. Others would like the use of them. Thank you.

Just a general reminder -- "You Have a Right to Read" is the theme of National Library Week April 18-24 which is just around the corner. Please keep these dates in mind and join us and learn the many ways your life can be enriched through the many services our Library offers. Just come and use your Library with its many splendid facilities!

Herald salutes C of C

Five in one

Mrs. Merlin Boehle of Quihi doesn't mind feeding the cattle, but last week the task took on a sort of shaking experience. She went to the hay stack and began pulling out bales of hay and encountered five rattlesnakes. And they were pretty good size, too. All were about four feet and had 10 or 11 rattles. Her young son, Glenn, 4-years-old, must have thought about them for before Mrs. Boehle began the feeding chore he said, "Be careful, mommy." She killed all five snakes and Merlin nailed them to a board so they could make a better picture. The next day when she brought them to town one was still moving about.

Social Security

Questions on disability answered

QUESTION: I am receiving disability benefits and my nine year old daughter is receiving benefits on my record. Is she eligible for a larger benefit as a disabled child?

ANSWER: No, She can continue to receive benefits, however, regardless of her age, as long as she is disabled.

QUESTION: The Veteran's Administration determined that I am 50% disabled. Is this sufficient to establish disability for social security benefits?

ANSWER: Not necessarily. Social security disability is not based on a percentage. Also, since different laws are involved, a separate determination would have to be made by the Social Security Administration.

QUESTION: Can a disabled wife draw benefits on her husband's record if she is under age 62 and has no children in her care?

ANSWER: No. At present there is no provision for payment of social security benefits to a disabled wife.

QUESTION: Is social security and old age assistance the same thing?

ANSWER: No, social security is a Federal program, and is based on earnings.

QUESTION: I have just reached age 65 and have Medicare. My doctor does not accept Medicare and has sent me a bill. I don't know how to file the claim. Where should I go for help?

ANSWER: If you have difficulty in filing for reimbursement under Medicare, take

The social security administration encourages anyone who has questions to see their social security representative. Your representative, Mrs. Fry, will be in Hondo at the Council Chamber of the City Hall Building on Monday, March 15, at 8:45 a.m.
